Dear Mandy:

I would like to express my family's eternal gratitude to you, Jay, and the staff at Leigh Law Group for accepting our case and moving forward with the attention and precision needed at every step in the legal process. It was no easy task to prepare a response that defeated the school district's motion to end the lawsuit before it goes to trial. I read every word with admiration for the depth of knowledge and clarity of reasoning that came out from every page.

In a setting that seems to thrive on stress, you and Jay brought hope whenever you had news to share. It was more than simply knowing that my wife and I had a team who was driven to tackle complicated legal matters. Perhaps what we liked most is that, although our lawsuit was about retaliation against parental advocacy, you and Jay never lost sight of what truly mattered – the safety and education of our child.

Thank you for guiding us through a tough situation. The work of Leigh Law Group paved the way to a settlement with a school district that did not necessarily act with the sense of impartiality or collaboration that might be fostered from a reading of materials about special education.

With every good wish,
